The Temburong Bridge Project also marks the beginning of an ambitious plan to further boost Brunei's economy by developing the relatively under-developed Temburong in the east.

The President also commented on the long-standing relations between Korean companies and Brunei Darussalam, saying, "Ever since embarking on the LNG plant refurbishment project in 1970, which was its first ever project in the Sultanate, Daelim Industry has constructed the Raja Isteri Pengiran Anak Hajah Saleha Bridge that has become the landmark of Brunei Darussalam, and the trust that has been built for the Temburong Bridge.

Ever since the establishment of diplomatic relations in 1984, Korea and Brunei have built very strong ties and friendship. In particular, we have maintained close cooperation in infrastructure building and energy resources.

"Today our bilateral cooperation has evolved through partnership between Brunei Vision 2035 strategy and Korea's New Southern Policy," he added.

In his reciprocal remarks, Dato Seri Setia Awang Haji Suhaimi said, "The construction packages which are under Daelim Swee joint venture are the 14.5km bridge spanning over the Brunei Bay, and the marine viaduct and two big cable-stayed navigational bridges.

"Progress has been good, and the project has benefitted from the experience of big bridge-building that Daelim has brought to the project.

"A good example is the Full Span Launching Method, which is the first in the world to be used for bridge-building and enabling the good progress. I am hopeful that the whole bridge will be fully completed by the end of this year.

"I am pleased that the Daelim Swee joint venture, as well as the other joint venture companies constructing the other packages, have continued to have a good working relationship with local contractors and suppliers, and fulfilled their obligation to engage local subcontractors, suppliers and also the number of local graduates and workers.

By doing so, the project has provided economic spurts to the local companies, and also transferred technology and knowledge to our local professionals and staff."

President Moon Jae-in is currently in the country for a three-day State Visit.

The 30-km Temburong Bridge, which is expected to be completed at the end of this year, will connect the Brunei-Muara and Temburong districts via the Brunei Bay.
